

Cobra low-profile cable ties

July 20, 2009

Cobra Cable Tie Co. has introduced a line of compact, low-profile cable ties that are, says Cobra, a safe replacement for conventional ties which have a square head and an exposed barb that can injure workers, and scratch or gouge surfaces. The ties feature one-third the head height of standard cable ties and, when cut, the stub is concealed within the head to create a smooth, snag-proof outer surface conforming to the bundle. Available in UV-resistant black and natural nylon, the cable ties are UL/CSA listed, QPL approved, and come in 7-in. to 16-in. sizes in medium and heavy-duty styles.
